Is the Daughter of Former Mayor of Pittsburg; Badly Crushed.

Pittsburg, Pa., Oct. 28.—The headless hedy of Miss Sophia McCallin, daughter of the late William C. McCallin, former mayor of Pittsburg, was found late last night on the Pennsylvania railroad tracks at Roug, a passenger station within line city limits.

The Body was so badly crushed that identification was impossible until this morning when her absence from the office of E. E. Morrow, city controller, whose secretary she was started an inquiry. Identification was catablished by a diamond pin bearing her name. The droumstances leading to her death are unknown. There is doubt, however, as to the exact origin of the fire.

A large percentage of the pupils were children of foreign parentage. In the number were many of brish and Italian descent. The firemen fought the fire from Indices raised to the windows while the police cleared the vestibule.

DISTRACTED MOTHERS.

The first alarm brought a hundred distracted mothers to the school yard, where soon they were joined by other relatives of the pupils, until the building was surrounded by a great crowd of hysterical men and wence, who rawhed the police lines in a wild effort to reach their helidren. The police were poweriess to stop the rash, but what they failed to do was accomplished persently by the finnes, which, shooting from the windows of the building, held back the unhappy throng.

Large Dairy Farmers Use Texaco Roofing

HAT in itself is one of the strongest recommendations for this particularly valuable Texaco

Dairy farming, with its necessarily large investment and its costly live stock, has become a valuable and efficient industry.

The experienced business man engaged in it uses Texaco Roofing to protect his cows from rain and damp.

Texaco Roofing is a paying proposition for him. Not only for the protection afforded, but for the low cost of upkeep and the ease with which it is applied. These features make it doubly valuable on your house, barn or factory. Lay it yourself and make a perfect roof.

Get in touch with the Texaco agent in your town. Let him explain Texaco Roofing to you. It is a worthy representative of the whole line of Texaco Quality Products.
